March/April 2019

Exchange – Why? Where?

Global Fair 5th April 2019 – come along!

Why go on exchange?

- Learn about another culture
- Become more independent and confident
- Opportunity to travel
- Meet new people
- Gain international experience
- Career development

Where can I go?

There are over 170+ partners in 39 countries!

The majority of partners (over 160+) offer courses taught in English.

Austria | Belgium | Brazil | Brunei | Canada | Chile | China
| Colombia | Czech Republic | Denmark | Finland | France
| French Polynesia | Germany | Hong Kong | Hungary |
India | Indonesia | Ireland | Italy | Japan | Mexico |
Myanmar | Netherlands | New Caledonia | New Zealand |
Norway | Peru | Portugal | Singapore | South Korea |
Spain | Sweden | Switzerland | Taiwan | Thailand | Turkey
| United Kingdom | United States

Check your eligible for exchange

Step – Eligibility

- ELIGIBILITY - Please do check your eligibility for the university you are interested in.

<http://www.anu.edu.au/students/careers-opportunities/global-programs/exchange/exchange-eligibility-and-requirements>

- ROOM WITHIN DEGREE - To be eligible for a semester of exchange studies, students must have a minimum of 24 ANU units available within their ANU degree.

Eligibility check

At time of going on exchange:

- You must have completed 48 units (1 year of full-time study) before the exchange starts.
- You must have a minimum GPA of 4 on a 7 scale* – it includes all courses taken in your undergraduate degree.
- You must have obtained approval from academic college(s) with signed College Endorsement Form (for 24 units required) for your exchange semester.

Yes to all? You can apply for exchange!

* The GPA requirements can vary from partner to partner. Some partners will require a higher GPA than the minimum 4 specified by ANU. Exchange spots are limited per partner. For restricted partners (ie. very popular partners frequently chosen by students), minimum GPA 6 to apply, at the time of application and going on exchange. Your GPA will be taken after your exams and that GPA (it's final) will decide your ranking for an exchange spot with an allocated exchange partner.

You can go on exchange anytime, starting in your second year onwards!

Ever wanted to study overseas? If you want to apply for exchange through ANU Global Programs, we have 170+ universities in over 35 countries for you to choose from!

The exchange application process starts long before the application deadline, so students should prepare one year in advance of going on exchange.

Exchange places per partner are limited and competition is high, so be prepared and don't miss out. Start planning at least a year before you want your exchange to start.*

Plan your ANU degree subjects knowing you will be taking a semester out to study overseas. Try to save your electives courses. Check your eligibility to apply.

NOTE: NEW APPLICATION PROCESS FOR 2020 S1 EXCHANGE - students only need to complete ONE application (with five preferences).

How to Apply for Exchange

Step 1 - Research

Options for student ie. not all partners can accommodate double-degree students or students wishing to take courses from several different faculties/colleges. For some universities, students can only select courses from ONE faculty (Single faculty only).

Double-degree students (or PPE), should NOT list any "single faculty only" partners as an option. The partner cannot offer exchange studies (time-tabling clashes, campuses at locations very far from each other). So please make sure only multi faculty universities are selected.

Single-degree students (or students only taking courses in one side of a double degree), can select either option if the partner offers courses in the discipline the student is after.

Faculties / Colleges:
Exchanges can be uni-wide or some are college specific. So not all partners offer the courses / disciplines you require and exchange may not be offered at some schools. Please look at what is available, as well as any restrictions the partner has listed on their websites.

NOTE: the results list is indicative only. Students must do their own research and look at the partners own course catalogue to check what courses are available for that partner.

Find suitable partners and courses offered

(note – majority of partners actually teach in English!)

Step – Look at University Offering

- UNIVERSITY OFFERING - Look at each university's exchange year level offered, GPA requirements, term dates, any language requirements*, full semester course load equivalencies etc.
- NARROW DOWN CHOICES - Find at least 5 universities with course offerings that you are interested in, then seek academic college approval for your proposed exchange studies.

* The majority of our exchange partners (@160) actually teach the courses in English.

* The only exceptions are universities in South America, French-part of Canada, some German / French / Swiss universities. They may not have any courses taught in English or very limited course offerings taught in English. So make sure you look at the partner's course catalogue for what is taught.

Looking at a partner brochure page

Language: Most partners offer studies in English. Always check the partners' own website for what language their courses are taught in.

GPA requirement to apply for partner. The more popular partners have higher GPA requirements. All students still need to be ranked for the limited spots per partner.

Exchange year available to student ie. third year (96 units completed) and above. Most partners take students from 2nd year (48 units) onwards, with some stating later years.

Multi faculty available to student ie. not all partners can accommodate double-degree students, as students can only select courses from ONE faculty (Single faculty only)

Program Description:

About ETH Zurich

Freedom and individual responsibility, entrepreneurial spirit and open-mindedness: ETH Zurich stands on a bedrock of true Swiss values. Our university for science and technology dates back to the year 1855, when the founders of modern-day Switzerland created it as a centre of innovation and knowledge. At ETH Zurich, students discover an ideal environment for independent thinking, researchers a climate which inspires top performance. Situated in the heart of Europe, yet forging connections all over the world, ETH Zurich is pioneering effective solutions to the global challenges of today and tomorrow.

Courses and areas of study

Please find the online course catalogue here.

Credit Equivalencies

ANU exchange students are recommended to take between 20 to 26 ECTS, which will be regarded as a full semester load equivalent to 24 ANU units. Students must discuss with their ANU academic colleges for approval of their exchange credit.

Standard for domestic ETH students is 30 ECTS for half a year of studies. ETH do not recommend exchange students taking more than 30 ECTS per semester.

Faculties / Colleges:

Exchanges can be uni-wide or some are college specific. So NOT all partners offer the courses / disciplines you require and exchange may not be offered at some schools. Please look at what is available, as well as any restrictions the partner has listed on their websites.

Look at the partner's own course catalogue for what courses are offered. Make sure the partners you choose actually offer courses that you can take from their catalogue.

CREDIT EQUIVALENCIES

Each partner has its own credit equivalency for what is equivalent to a full semester load at ANU. So make sure you can find enough courses to take with spare. Do not be surprised, a full semester load can equate to students needing to take anything between 3 to 9 courses for one semester, in order to earn 24 ANU units for their exchange experience.

Look at partners' course catalogue for what you can study

- Students must look the partners' course catalogues for the courses/disciplines available for exchange (and any restrictions), as well as whether it is offered during the correct semester.
- Courses can be ones that complement your course of study or it could be courses that are not offered by ANU.
- All students must check the partner's website for the course outlines and seek approval from academic colleges for their approval that you can have credit for the courses.
- It may be helpful to take course outlines with you, when you see your college advisors for approval for your College Endorsement Form.

Only academic colleges can provide approval for your College Endorsement Form.

Credit equivalencies around the world

Examples of credit equivalencies for a full semester load around the world:

- Europe: 30 ECTS (could be 3 to 6 courses)
- UK: 30 ECTS or 60 credits (could be 3 to 6 courses)
- Japan: unit values vary greatly anything from 12 to 20 credits (could be 7 to 9 courses)
- USA: @12 or 15 credits (could be 4 to 6 courses)
- Canada: varies so much! Eg. earn 2.5 credits (taking 5 courses)

What is a full semester load at the partner?

- All full semester load and credit equivalencies can be found for each partner on the program brochure within the Global Program System.
- Do NOT be surprised the full semester course load varies at each partner.
- Students will take a certain number courses (it can be anything from 3 to 9 courses) at the exchange partner university, that is equivalent to a full load at the partner university.
- To earn 24 ANU units from ANU for your exchange, you will study the what is equivalent to a full semester load.
- Most students will take more than four courses per semester at the partner ie. it may be 5 or 6 courses at the partner university that makes up a full semester load for many students. Students should work out how this works for them by looking at the partner's course catalogue.
- So make sure you know what the “equivalent” full semester load is at the host university.

ALL students must also be enrolled at ANU for a 24 ANU unit exchange code whilst you are away during the exchange semester.

Students will continue to pay/accrue their normal semester tuition fees (the cost of 24 units) to ANU and must enrol in an ANU exchange course code to pay/accrue their fees at ANU.

How credits are earned for exchange

- You need to pass all your courses at the overseas university (the full semester load equivalent) so that you stay on track with completing your ANU degree.
- After your exchange, ANU will receive your transcript from your exchange. Your academic college(s) will assess the marks and award “credit units” towards your degree. So to receive ANU 24 units in total, you must pass all the courses taken overseas. For your ANU transcript, the credits are annotated as “EE” which means “enrolled elsewhere” on your transcript.

Examples of how your ANU transcript is annotated after exchange:

Single degree (eg. 100% CASS endorsement, student with 4 courses/electives available)

- ARTS 5920 24 units EE

Double degree (eg. 50% CASS and 50% LAW endorsement)

- ARTS 5920 12 units EE
- LAWS 5920 12 units EE

Double degree (eg. 25% CASS and 75% LAW endorsement)

- ARTS 5920 6 units EE
- LAWS 5920 18 units EE

MUST Seek academic college(s) approval

Step – Seek Academic College Approval

- COLLEGE ENDORSEMENT FORM COMPLETED - Print out a College Endorsement Form (CEF) and complete it by listing the 5 universities and the equivalent full semester load credit equivalency for each university.
- ACADEMIC COLLEGE APPROVAL - Book an appointment, email or drop-in to see your academic college(s) and get the College Endorsement Form (CEF) approved by an academic college advisor.

Fill out College Endorsement Form (CEF)

- Research partners, find suitable course offerings on partners' websites and course catalogues.
- Look at semester load equivalencies, GPA requirements, term dates, any language requirements etc.
- Decide on 5 exchange partners and list them on a College Endorsement Form (CEF), together with what a full semester load entails at each partner.
- Email, book an appointment or drop-in to see your academic college(s) and get the CEF approved by an academic college advisor.
- Students need to have a minimum of 24 ANU units available within their ANU degree(s) that their academic college is happy to approve for each application of a semester of exchange.

EASY

Easier

HARD

Much harder (not impossible)
Be flexible! Do your homework.

- Make sure you do your homework! It's up to you to look at each partner's course catalogues /course outlines, from at least 5 universities to seek suitable courses.
- If you have electives (24 units worth of electives), then it is much easier for your academic college to approve your CEF. Your college will most likely not need to see any course outlines.
- If you have some electives and a major/minor you hope to use, you have to do your homework.
- If you do not have any electives, exchange may not be possible.

Room (electives) within your degree

- ALL students MUST SEEK approval from their academic college(s) advisers.
- A college endorsement form must be completed by the student and signed by their academic college(s) advisers.
- Utilise elective courses wherever possible, this allows for more flexibility!
- Double degree studies are not always possible at partners, so be flexible and ask both your ANU academic colleges how much room you actually have.
- Flexible Double Degree students must get both College signatures, if they intend to study courses to count towards both degrees on exchange.
- Double degree students - make sure the partners you are preferencing in your exchange application are “Multi-Faculty” and NOT “Single faculty” only. “Single faculty” only universities DO NOT allow students to take courses from more than one faculty during their exchange.
- Also take note NOT all exchange partner universities allow students to take course at multi faculties, so make sure you are looking at partner offering multi-faculty college/faculty options in your program search.
- Students may run into the following problems during exchange:
 - Restricted courses
 - Cancellation of courses
 - Timetable conflicts
 - Course content not what it seems

If you are doing electives and an unforeseen problem arises, it will be easier to manage any changes to courses you are taking with your academic college(s) to approve again.

Double degree – multi college students

- Double (triple) degree students
- PPE students (this counts as 3 disciplines at partner universities)
- Students taking courses from more than one faculty / college / discipline
- Make sure the partners you are preferencing in your exchange application are “Multi-Faculty” and NOT “Single faculty” only.
- “Single faculty” only universities DO NOT allow students to take courses from more than one faculty during their exchange.
- NOT all exchange partner universities allow students to take course at multi faculties, so make sure you are looking at partner offering multi-faculty college/faculty options in your program search.

No enough electives within your degree

- Please seek advice from your College(s) whether you have approval and any room in your degree for exchange studies.
- A college endorsement form must be completed by the student and signed by the academic college(s) advisers.
- Some students may be permitted to use non-electives (majors / minors) by their academic colleges. Students MUST go and see them to discuss your options. You MUST do your research (search partner's course catalogue), to see which universities have actual courses that may have sufficient course content, to be similar enough to a minor/major. If you do not have any electives to use for exchange, then exchange is not likely to be possible.
- It is always the academic colleges' decision as to whether you have any room in your degree for approved exchange studies.
- Exchange isn't always possible for every student, if your ANU degree does not have any room for studies outside of ANU.

CASS students – specific instructions

All CASS students must follow specific instructions to on exchange, as listed on the CASS website:

<http://cass.anu.edu.au/cass-exchange-information>

If anything is not clear relating to the CASS website instructions, please ensure you visit the CASS student advisors at their office in the Beryl Rawson Building during the CASS drop-in sessions.

What happens next?

Applicants are GPA ranked

- APPLICANTS ARE GPA RANKED FOR SPOTS AVAILABLE - Exchange spots are limited per partner and some partners may not offer exchange if there is an imbalance. All exchange applicants are GPA ranked amongst all the applicants who apply for exchange for the semester they have applied for. After the application deadline, the applicant's official ANU GPA will be used in ranking all the applicants for the exchange spots available and the exchange partner allocated accordingly to you.
- So make sure you have 5 preferences (in your SINGLE application) when you apply for exchange!

Exchange spots are limited per partner.

As an indication of exchange spots allocated from the last exchange round:

GPA between 6 and 7: @70% received their 1st preference.

GPA between 5 and 5.9: @55% received their 1st preference.

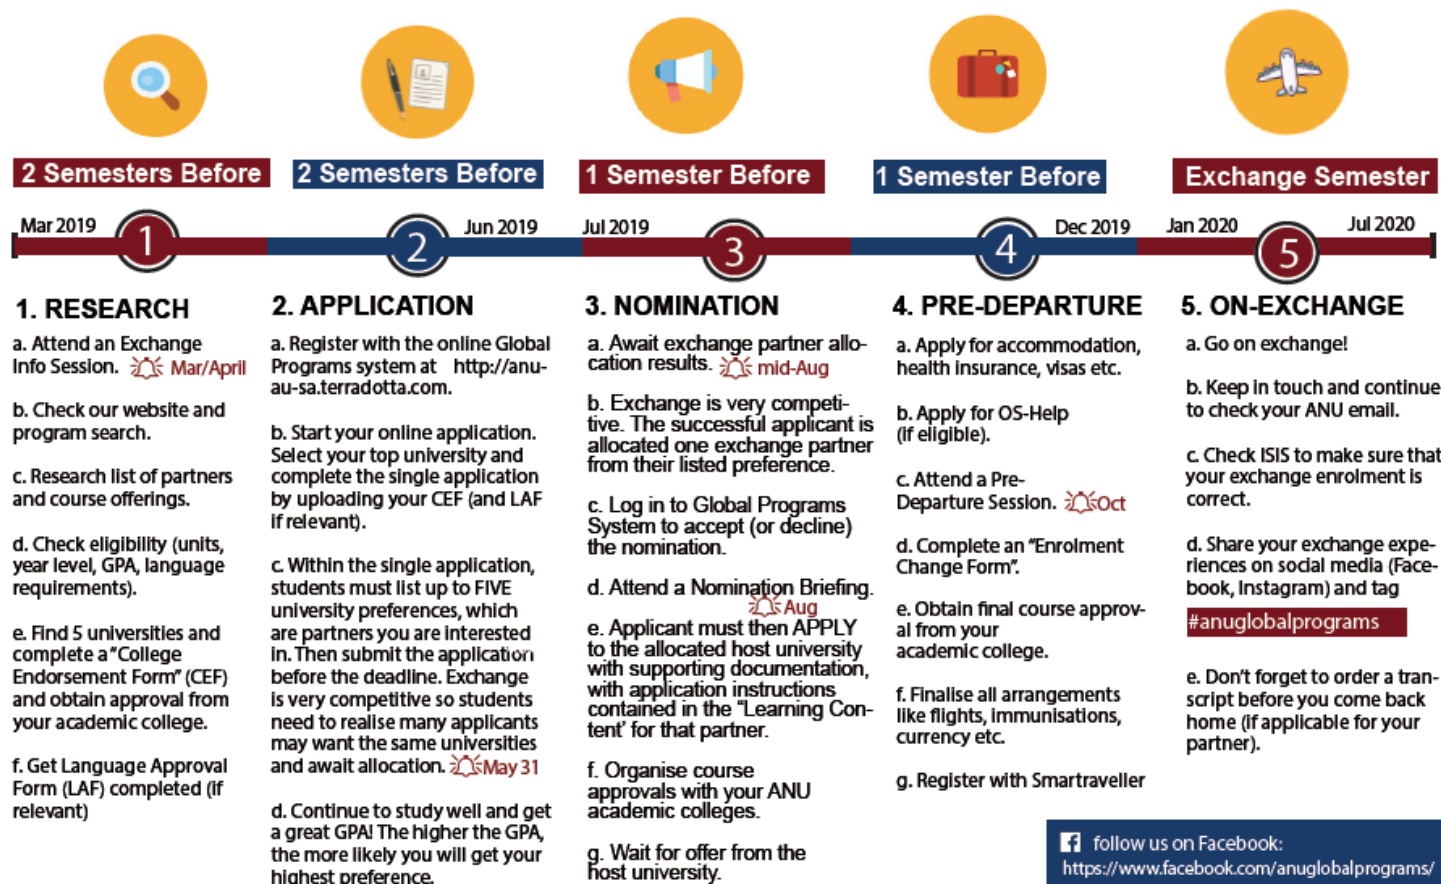

GPA between 4 and 4.99: @20% received their 1st preference.

On average, @3% of total eligible applicants did not receive a partner allocation from their five preferences listed. The students were still offered the opportunity to go on exchange. An alternative partner spot that was spare was then taken by the students, so that they were still able to go on exchange.
